From the panel discussion “If Only I Knew How: Tips for Recruiting, Retaining, and Developing Volunteers and Friends Board Members”
With Darnell Gundy-Reed, FOML Vice-President

FOML Friends Fall Workshop
Thursday, October 12, 2017

“You’re so knowledgeable, great organizer. I’m doing something that excites me - it may excite you too. My guess, you might really love Friends of the Library. Your abilities could influence others. Interested? Let’s talk over coffee.”

Bev Anderson + Barb Wenger, Englehardt Library - Lowell

“Hi, enjoying retirement? I joined “Friends of Walker Library” a few years ago and I really like the activities and functions we provide for the community. Most of what we do involves children and are free to the community. We’d love to have you come to one of our luncheons, meet the “Friends,” and hopefully find a group you’d like to be part of.”

Linda Katz, North Muskegon Library

“Do you use your library? Do you use the programs? Do you like to make Friends? You can support the library while having fun with other individuals and books? So many books! Volunteer job that directly impacts your community. Join with me or just contact the library.”

Melanie Baldwin, Ann Arbor District Library
